State Govt. to appoint 15,000 more teachers: Minister Nagesh

Bengaluru, Sept. 18 (KMS & TRR)- Primary and Secondary Education Minister B.C. Nagesh announced in the State Legislative Assembly that the State Government will appoint 15,000 more teachers once the present appointment process of 15,000 teachers is completed.

The Minister disclosed that in the present academic year, 81,00 School/College rooms will be constructed. Replying to a question by Y. Ramappa during Question Hour, Nagesh said that in another two weeks the appointment list of 15,000 teachers will be announced and after verification of documents they will be deputed for schools.

"Once this is completed, we will start the process of appointing another 15,000 teachers by inviting applications from eligible candidates in November and complete the process of appointment of 15,000 teachers by January-February 2023. There are 47,000 vacant teachers posts in the State and all these posts will be filled up in a phased manner in the coming days."

"In order to prevent inconvenience to students, 27,000 guest teachers have been appointed. It has been decided to appoint 2,500 teachers for various High School posts through direct appointment. After considering the State's financial resources, steps will be taken to fill up the vacant posts," added the Minister.

Stating that heavy rains have caused the collapse of many school rooms and the Government is constructing 8,100 class rooms, Nagesh opined that had the previous Governments constructed school rooms on a timely basis, this problem would not have arisen.

"We will construct necessary class rooms for institutions across the State in the next three years," he concluded.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

What exactly is the taste of Indian coffee? Because, as it is for most things in our country, we don't have a standard to define Indian coffee. There are multiple versions all going by the same name, coffee. At one end of the spectrum is the watered-down coffee, served in mini collapsible plastic cups, in trains; at the other end is the strong, aromatic filter kaapi that one gets to relish in any South Indian restaurant. Then there is the milky variety that children are allowed to have occasionally as a treat. And the high-caffeine instant ones that hold the promise of keeping the eyes open for a night-long study session. There is the pure Coorgi Arabica powder with heady aroma and then there is the strong Robusta.

There are several blends of coffee and chicory in varying ratios. As such, the final coffee in the cup varies not only in flavour and taste, but also in colour: it comes in different shades of brown. Diversity in a cup of coffee is as rich as it is in India.

The diversity of India is there for the world to see when our sportspersons line up before international matches — hockey, cricket, football or lawn ball. For me, it was exhilarating to watch the players stand at attention and join in as the anthem tune played during the Common Wealth Games (CWG). And as the camera moved across the line, bringing each player's face into focus, one could not miss the fact that from the light to the dark, we Indians come in several shades of beautiful brown! Even as our Tricolour fluttered in CWG, the players were showcasing to the world the diverse ethnicity that flourishes in India.

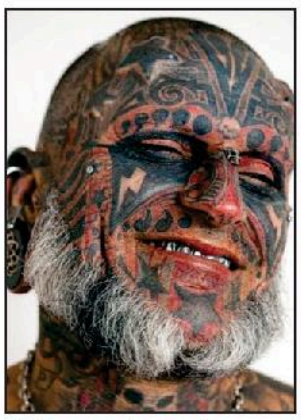
Man spends £400 to get 'demon' look



Uruguay: A man has spent £400 for implanting horns into skull in a bid to become 'demon'. Victor Hugo Peralta, a showman from Uruguay, previously made headlines after revealing his body modification obsession — where he has Devil's "666" carved into his scalp.

The 52-year-old recalls falling in love with tattoos from a very young age and had his first inking at only 13 years old.

Since then, he has continued his obsession and claims 95 per cent of his body is covered in tattoos. As he wants to transform himself into a "beautiful monster", he's also split his tongue, modified his ears, and switched up his natural teeth for metal ones.

Now, to further achieve his look, he's added three subdermal implants into his head, to replicate the look of "horns."

Memorabilia collection earns record

Kansas : A Kansas man who owns 1,110 pieces of Kansas City Chiefs memorabilia earned a Guinness World Record for the size of his collection. Curt Herrman, who first sought the record when his collection totalled about 550 pieces in October 2020, received word from Guinness World Records that his now-1,110-piece collection has been verified as the world's largest collection of Kansas City Chiefs memorabilia.

Herrman said it took a lot of time and effort to get the record-keeping organization to approve the application for his "Chiefseum." "The toughest part was, I had to send lots of pictures of just how the whole room is and everything I have together. I had to do a video of me counting everything. I mean, basically just, one, two, three, four, five, all the way up to the end...," he revealed.

VOICE OF THE READER

Is wearing of mask mandatory in workplaces and public areas?

Sir,

The Government of Karnataka had issued orders making wearing of face mask compulsory at workplaces, malls, etc. Till date this order has not been changed. However, it is seen that people are generally ignoring this order even in some Government offices and hospitals.

When we try to follow the Government orders and ask people to wear a mask, they start fighting and arguing that there is no such order or COVID now.

Will the Office of the Deputy Commissioner (DC) or Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) Commissioner or the District Health Officer (DHO) issue a public clarification on the subject, clearly stating whether wearing mask is mandatory or not?

Kerala pays Rs. 600 per day to midday meal workers, Karnataka Rs. 123 !

State Midday Meals Employees Association (CITU) Treasurer Mahadevamma addressing the gathering at 5th District-level Conference of Midday Meal Workers in city on Thursday last as others look on.

Mysuru, Sept. 18 (PM&TRR)- "Kerala Government is paying Rs.600 per day to the workers of midday meals whereas Karnataka Government is paying an honorarium of just Rs.123," lamented State Midday Meals Employees Association (CITU) Treasurer Mahadevamma.

She was speaking after inaugurating the 5th District-level Conference of Midday Meal Workers organised by Karnataka State Midday Meal Workers Association (CITU) to demand minimum wages and confirmation of their services at Vishwamaitri Buddha Vihara Auditorium, near Ashoka (Ballal) Circle on Thursday last.

"Kerala Government is paying a salary of Rs. 18,000 per month at Rs.600 per day to its midday meal workers. But our Karnataka Government is paying only Rs. 3,500 per month at Rs.123 per day in the name of honorarium. How can one lead a life with Rs.3,500?" she asked and accused both the State and Union Governments of following anti-labour policies.

"These Governments are not bothered about the continuous agitations being organised by the workers demanding minimum wages and pension for midday meal workers. More than 6,000 workers have been sent home citing crossing of 60 years of age, without giving them any facilities. Though we are demanding a lump sum payment of Rs.1 lakh be given to these employees as retirement benefits, they are not responding," she alleged.

"The State midday meal workers who are working for the past 19 years are in dire straits now. These Governments repeatedly say that they are committed for development. Are we not in their list of development? Isn't our welfare a part of development? How can we lead our lives with the meagre amount of Rs.3,500 per month?" she questioned.

Karnataka Region Farmers Association District General Secretary Jagadish Surya, who also spoke on the occasion, pointed out that midday meal workers who provide daily meals to school children are being paid very less in our State.

Pointing out that our Legislators are getting Rs.1.4 lakh to Rs.2 lakh per month, Jagadish Surya said that on the contrary, the Kerala Legislators are getting a salary of Rs.4,600 per month. Kerala Government is paying a salary of Rs.18,000 per month to midday meal workers whereas Karnataka is paying just Rs.3,500 per month. Kerala Government is giving a pro-people administration, he added.

Earlier, midday meal workers took out a march from Ramaswamy Circle to Buddha Vihar. State General Secretary of Anganwadi Workers Association H.S. Sunanda, District CITU President Balaji Rao, General Secretary G. Jayaram, District Midday Meal Workers Committee President Manjula and others participated in the Conference.

India needs more engineers like Sir MV, says Prof. K.S. Rangappa

Engineers C.R. Nagaraj, Mohan Shankar, R. Satish, Raghunath and H.N. Santhosh, who were felicitated, seen with former Vice-Chancellor Prof. K.S. Rangappa and others.

Mysuru, Sept. 18 (MK&TRR)- "The Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) Dam which is the most significant contributions of Sir M. Visvesvaraya (MV) is still very relevant and hence, India needs more Engineers like him," opined former Vice-Chancellor of University of Mysore Prof. K.S. Rangappa.

He was speaking after inaugurating a function organised at Institution of Engineers-India (IEI), Mysuru, on Sept. 15 to celebrate Sir MV's birthday which is being celebrated as Engineer's Day.

"The contributions of Visvesvaraya are known to the entire world. KRS Dam, which is his most significant contribution, has ignited the lives of lakhs of people," the former VC added.

"The work of Science and Technology are similar. Reputed Engineers and Scientists are working endlessly for the development of the nation. There is an increased demand in the country for Genetic Engineers, Bio-tech and Health Science Engineers," he observed.

Engineers C.R. Nagaraj, Mohan Shankar, R. Satish, Raghunath and H.N. Santhosh were felicitated.

Speaking on the occasion, Mohan Shankar said that Sir MV, who served the country sincerely and honestly, is a role model for Engineers. Of late, honesty is diminishing among Engineers, he regretted.

IEI Chairman B.S. Prabhakar, K.B. Bhaskar, Satish, Chinnaswamy, Sureshbabu and others were present on the occasion.

Govt. to celebrate Sir MV's birth anniversary in every district: CM

Basavaraj Bommai

Bengaluru, Sept. 18 (KMS&TRR)- "From next year onwards, the State Government will organise the birth anniversary celebrations of Sir M. Visvesvaraya (MV) at all District centres of the State," said Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Thursday.

He was speaking after offering floral tributes to the bust of Sir MV at a function jointly organised by the Karnataka Engineering Seva Sangha and Karnataka Engineers Association.

"We celebrate Sir MV's birthday as Engineer's Day. This year the Union Government has asked all State Governments to organise Engineer's Day. But we are already celebrating Engineer's Day in Karnataka," said the CM.

Sir M. Visvesvaraya is the most distinguished son of Karnataka and he is always a source of inspiration to us.

In a life span of over 100 years, he implemented various schemes for the development of the State and for the welfare of the people of Karnataka. It is rare to see a man of such knowledge and commitment.

He was a real patriot. MV didn't build just roads and dams. He set up big industries like Paper Mill, Cement, Iron and Steel factories under the patronage of the Mysore Maharaja. His contribution to Power sector is enormous and by building KRS Dam he has given life to the people," concluded Bommai.

Posing as delivery executives three youths rob homemaker

Nanjangud, Sept. 18 (BCT)- Posing as delivery executives with a parcel box in their hands, three youths robbed a homemaker of her jewels in Nanjangud yesterday. The incident occurred at Ramaswamy Layout where the woman was gagged and tied up. They made away with over 200 grams of gold ornaments worth Rs. 8 lakh.

The homemaker is Dakshayani, wife of Shambhuswamy, a high school teacher. The couple has a child and Shambhuswamy and the kid were at the school while Dakshayani was at home. At around 8.30 to 8.45 am, soon after the homemaker was alone, the youths rang the doorbell of the house.

Dakshayani opened the door and the youths told her that she had a parcel. Trusting them as they carried a box, she opened the door wide and the dacoits entered the house swiftly. They pushed Dakshayani inside and before even she could raise an alarm, the homemaker was gagged and tied to a sofa.

"Soon after I opened the door, they forcibly entered the house and then threatened me to hand over all the jewellery I was wearing. When I tried to raise an alarm, they closed my mouth with tape and tied my hands and legs. They also threatened to outrage my modesty and kill me. I was too scared to confront them and I was unable to scream. The three men then searched the house for a few minutes and decamped with gold valuables. They also removed the hard disk connected to the CCTV cameras," she told the Police.

Dakshayani was bleeding from her nose as the tape was tightly pasted, covering her mouth and nose. She told the Police that after the gang left, she managed to reach the main door crawling and shouting for help. A neighbour noticed Dakshayani on the ground and helped her. According to her statement to the Police, the youths were conversing in Kannada, Hindi and Tamil.

Later Dakshayani told reporters that she had ordered some things online and she presumed that the parcel had come and she opened the door. The three youths had come on a bike. She told the Police that though the family had installed the CCTV cameras, they switched them off during the night. Also, the dacoits had taken away the hard disk that stored the footage.

Superintendent of Police (SP) R. Chethan said that teams have been formed to crack the case. Nanjangud Rural Police have registered a case.

District Minister blames engineers for '40 percent commission' charges

Mysuru, Sept. 18 (RK&DM)- Blaming the negligence and apathy of Government engineers for '40 percent commission' charges made by Karnataka State Contractors Association, District Minister S.T. Somashekar said that the charges would never had come up if engineers had prepared estimates in time, issued work orders and cleared bills as per norms.

Somashekar

He was speaking at the quarterly KDP progress review meeting at the ZP Hall here yesterday.

Stating that Legislators have been complaining about delay and lapses in the execution of various civil and developmental works undertaken by RDPR, PWD, ZP, Water Resources, Minor Irrigation and other concerned Departments, Somashekar reiterated that the commission charges would not have come up had the engineers maintained a hold on the contractors, by discharging their duties with assertion, necessary follow-up and responsibility.

Directing the Minor Irrigation Department officials to blacklist such contractors who fail to carry out works despite being issued work order, Somashekar said that any obstructions by the Forest Department regarding road works, should be brought to the notice of the concerned Legislator and the Forest Minister.

Referring to claims seeking compensation for damaged houses, Somashekar said that there are complaints that some people have sought compensation by demolishing their good condition homes under the pretext of rains. There are also reports that some of such persons who demolished their homes have received Government compensation, he pointed out.

Asking the elected representatives not to recommend payment of compensation in respect of such spurious claims, he said that officials must be careful when carrying out a survey of rain damages and property damages.

Chamundeshwari MLA G.T. Devegowda (GTD) claimed that roads in several villages coming under his constituency were severely damaged by recent rains.

Urging the officials to immediately carry out road repair works, he said that officials must seek more funds from the Government if the money released is not sufficient.

GTD also urged Somashekar to take measures for clearing of encroachments on Dewan Purnaiah Canal, which have severely impeded smooth flow of storm water. Maintaining that developers and farm owners have encroached upon the 35ft. wide Dewan Purnaiah Canal, he argued that the encroachments had caused breaching of several lakes in Chamundeshwari Constituency and several other parts of Mysuru taluk.

He wanted the Government to order a comprehensive survey of the entire length and breadth of Dewan Purnaiah Canal and clear it of all encroachments.

Periyapatna MLA K. Mahadev said that most of the roads in his constituency were damaged by rains and the people are cursing the elected representatives for their plight.

Claiming that the Forest Department has been placing hurdles for taking up repairs of roads that pass through the Forests, he wanted the Minister to suitably direct the officials in this regard.

Somashekar said that this problem persisted not only in Mysuru, but in the entire State as well. He assured that this problem would be taken up at the Government level for redressal.

H.D. Kote MLA Anil Chikkamadu said that no one in the taluk, including adivasis, were issued Title Deeds for the past four years. He urged the Minister to look into the issue.

MLC C.N. Manjegowda,Deputy Commissioner (DC) Dr. Bagadi Gautham, Additional DC Dr. B.S. Manjunathaswamy, Zilla Panchayat (ZP) CEO B.R. Poornima, Deputy Conservator of Forests (DCF) Kamala Karikalan and other officials were present.

When Bengalis of Mysuru won Best Tableau Award during Dasara-1980

By Ashish Kumar Das
President, Bangiya Samiti, Mysuru

I was then the principal organiser-cum-President of Bangiya Sanskritik Parishad, Mysore. This was the banner under which we commenced celebrating Durga Puja for the first time in Mysuru, a city we now call our home, way back in 1979.

In fact, we were a small group previously known as 'Purba Bharatiya Majlish,' a group from Eastern India. But then we registered ourselves as Bangiya Sanskritik Parishad, Mysore (a Bengali Cultural Association).

That was the time of honour, prestige and glory for the Bengalis of Mysore. We started participating in the Dasara procession and used to have Durga Puja as the theme.

It was a matter of pride when our tableau, decked and decorated in 3 trucks, used to roll down the Dasara procession route originating from the Mysore Palace and culminating at Bannimantap — from where we used to proceed for immersion at holy confluence of Rivers at Sangam, Srirangapatna.

Along the entire route up to Bannimantap from Mysore Palace, we were cheered and applauded by the audience who would line up all along the road.

Our ladies, dressed in red-bordered cream-white sarees, used to sit on the trucks with conch-shells and accompanying puja ingredients.

At the background used to be the unique sound of beating of dhak (drums). We menfolk used to march ahead of the trucks, clad in our traditional dhoti and white kurta. This entire episode was a spectacle to cherish. It also showed the cultural diversity that was in Mysore.

In 1980, we were awarded the Best Tableau (1st Prize) in the Dasara procession. Many Bengalis of our city toiled hard to achieve this glory and honour. Some of these noble souls are not with us any more but their contributions will be etched in the memory forever.

We continued to be an integral part of the Dasara procession event for a number of years till the procession was limited to the districts of Karnataka only and private participation was discontinued.

The then Chief Minister Ramakrishna Hegde personally requested me to withdraw our tableau from the spectacle even though I insisted that Goddess Durga is another form of Goddess Chamundeshwari.

A lot of water has flown under the bridge since those golden years and a few more Durga Pujas are being performed in this city under different banners but the glory, honour and prestige of the first original Durga Puja under the banner of Bangiya Sanskritik Parishad, Mysore, cannot be erased.

The original Bangiya Sanskritik Parishad, Mysore, has now been renamed and registered as Bangiya Samiti, Mysuru and we extend a warm welcome to all Mysureans to join us in our celebration of Durga Puja which will be held between Oct. 1 and 5 at the International Youth Hostel premises on 5th Main Road, Gokulam 2nd Stage.

A sumptuous breakfast for Mahouts, Kavadis

The Minister said that the Mahouts and Kavadis were here to help celebrate the Dasara festival successfully and tradition demanded that they be served well during their stay here. "We will provide all necessary infrastructure to them during their stay," he added.

Somashekar personally served the holige and thanked the elephant handlers for their dedication and annual help.

Later, the Minister, accompanied by MP Pratap Simha, MLA L. Nagendra, MLC Manjegowda, Mayor Shivakumar, Deputy Commissioner (DC) Dr. Bagadi Gautham, Additional DC Dr. B.S. Manjunathaswamy, City Police Commissioner Dr. Chandragupta, Zilla Panchayat (ZP) CEO B.R. Poornima and Deputy Conservator of Forests (Wildlife) Dr. K. Karikalan had breakfast at the venue.

The Mahouts said that the sumptuous breakfast given to them was a feast and they enjoyed the different delicacies served. The event was organised as a special gesture to caretakers of Dasara elephants.

After breakfast, the Minister played cricket with the children of elephant handlers for some time and also distributed toys and playing materials to the children.

A health check-up camp was organised for the elephant caretakers by the JSS Medical College and Hospitals. Basic ailments were checked and medications were provided.

Deen Dayal Student Hostel to come up in city: Minister

Social Welfare Minister Kota Srinivas Poojary inaugurating the second-day programme of the nine-day 'Modi Yug Utsav-2022' in city this morning.

Mysuru, Sept.18 (RKB&DM)- Social Welfare Minister Kota Srinivas Poojary said that a Deen Dayal Upadhyaya Hostel for accommodating over a thousand students from Backward communities will soon come up in the city.

He was speaking after inaugurating the second-day programme of the nine-day 'Modi Yug Utsav-2022' event organised under the leadership of KR MLA S.A. Ramdas marking the birthday of Prime Minister Modi, at Ramalingeshwara park in Vidyaranyapuram here this morning.

Lauding Ramdas for his initiatives, Poojary said that it is Dr. B.R. Maintaining that working for the cause of Pourakarmikas, manhole workers and UGD workers is a real service to the society, Poojary asserted that his department was working overtime to empower the poor and the downtrodden.

Highlighting the initiatives of PM Modi for the benefit and upliftment and empowerment of the poor, women and other weaker sections, he appreciated the efforts of Ramdas in reaching the benefits to the doorsteps of targeted beneficiaries.

Stressing on the need for imparting skills training to youth, the Minister said that there are plans to build a big library at a cost of Rs. 4 crore for children, the place of which is yet to be decided.

A detailed map of the Temple was shown to the Minister listing out the entry and exit points for the President's visit. The Minister said that they are awaiting communication from the President's Office regarding the protocol to be followed during the VVIP visit and the composition of the President's entourage.

"We are expecting a mail from the President's Office and all arrangements will be made as per the protocol. This includes VVIP security. Changes required in the protocol will be followed," he said.

The Minister inspected the place for parking, from where the President will head towards the stage, Sri Chamundeshwari Temple, the number of crowds, restrictions and the place for other convoys of VIPs. "Details including the number of people attending, the crowd and the distance between the crowd and the stage will be chalked out later and changes, if any, will be made after the communique from the President's Office comes," Somashekar added.

Funds for Dasara

"In all, Rs. 34.50 crore will be spent by the State Government for Dasara. Additional funds will be released in stages and these include money for development works," he said.

The office of the President had sought a minute-to-minute programme of the Dasara inaugural, which has been shared by the officials, the Minister added.

The officials will now have to inform the President's office if Central Ministers will be participating in the programme. Once the programme schedule is approved, the invitations will be printed. "We will go to Delhi and give the invitation," Somashekar said.

Single-ticket system

The Minister announced a single-ticket system for the benefit of tourists and it will cost Rs. 500 for adults and Rs. 250 for children. The ticket is valid for entry into the Mysore Palace, Sri Chamundeshwari Temple atop Chamundi Hill, Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) Dam, Mysuru Zoo and Rail Museum.

Following a demand for Dasara Gold Cards, the Dasara Executive Committee has decided to launch them. A final decision on the number of Gold Cards that is to be printed and sold will be taken in a day or two, the Minister said.

Over a cup of evening Tea

By Dr. K. Javeed Nayeem, MD

Road accidents: One death versus a thousand others !

It is an unquestionable fact that the recent tragic death of business baron Cyrus Mistry in a ghastly road accident, is as much a loss to every one of us, as it is to his family members. I say this because he was a much-loved and much-admired man, for all the good qualities that set him apart as a good human being and a good citizen of our country. There just cannot be two opinions about this.

The magnitude of the tragedy is augmented a hundred-fold because we cannot help feeling that his death and the death of his friend too, who perished with him in the accident, could have been easily prevented if only the duo had thought it wise to wear their seat belts while travelling in their high-end car!

Accidents always come unannounced, which is why they are called accidents. But most of them can be forestalled by a little foresight instead of only by looking at them with hindsight like the way we are doing now. I call this 'hind-sighted action' because our Government is now thinking of making the wearing of seat belts mandatory even for rear seat passengers, only after being jolted by one high-profile death.

In fact, even as we are still being told that this will become the enforced norm in the near future, this yet-to-come rule is already being enforced in some cities over the past one week. There is no doubt that once it comes into force and if it is enforced with the will and resolve that it takes to implement rules on our people, this new rule, along with the many other safety rules that we already have, will do much to save lives on our roads.

But it is the enforcement part that is going to be the most difficult because not a single one of our road rules is being effectively implemented, as of now, across the length and breadth of our country, where people's minds somehow seem to be resistant to accepting something, even for their own good. That is why we see tiny-tots riding two-wheelers and driving cars on public roads with impunity and trucks and tractors meant only for transporting goods, being used to transport overflowing loads of living people! And, mind you, all these actions have been continuing to kill and maim thousands of our people year after year.

Now, some of us may say that these are all the result of people not following rules, beyond the eyesight of the law-enforcers and that there is no way the latter can be present along every road, at all times, across our country. But there are many other angles from which this problem deserves to be viewed.

Firstly, when we call ourselves a much-developed nation, why are we unable to enforce our rules on our people when most other similarly placed countries in our own neighbourhood, are able to do so effectively?

Secondly, when we say that our road accidents are largely because of the road users themselves, are we honestly taking into account the mind-boggling number of road accidents in our country that are being caused by the bad state of our roads? And, if just one high-profile death in the country can set our authorities thinking about amending the existing rules, what are we doing about the thousands of lives that are still being lost on our roads due to the second cause?

It is said that more than 5,000 people, young and old, lost their lives, just due to potholes in our roads through the years 2018, 2019 and 2020, with the yearly break-up being 2,015, 2,140 and 1,471, respectively. Shocked, appalled and amazed? Yes, you should be. But these are not vague and speculative 'guesstimates' but figures which have been released by our Government body, the Ministry of Road Transport and Highways.

And, mind you, this is the toll taken just by our potholes, leaving aside completely the lives lost on our roads due to other causes. And, these so-called other causes as told by none other than Nitin Gadkari himself, our Road Transport and Highways Minister, include, over-speeding, overloading, poorly maintained vehicles, untrained and unlicensed drivers, reckless driving, mechanical failure and bad road and weather conditions, to name just the major few.

If fixing our potholes alone could have prevented the loss of more than five thousand precious human lives, in just three years, why did we not do it all these years and why are we still not doing it on a war-footing?

I am talking about the same war-footing on which we are now making the wearing of seat belts compulsory for all rear seat passengers after seeing just two deaths. I am not at all saying that what we are doing is wrong or even unnecessary but I am only drawing attention to our inaction in response to the loss of thousands of deaths vis a vis one high profile death that has now set us thinking.

And, I would like to once again emphasise that it is not that the death of Cyrus Mistry can be brushed aside but what I am saying is that the loss of every other life too, be it of a high-profile person or the most ordinary man on the street, needs to be taken into account as being equally precious and therefore worthy of being prevented by equally prompt action.

Here I am reminded of what Alexander Pope has said so poignantly, in his thought-provoking poem, "An Essay on Man" where he emphasises that every life is important, irrespective of whether it belongs to a gallant hero or a humble sparrow and that the bursting of an ordinary water bubble or the whole world itself, are both equally important events! Here are his immortal words for us to ponder over and I hope we do it!

'Who sees with equal eye,
as God of all,
A hero perish or a sparrow fall,
Atoms or systems into ruin hurl'd,
And now a bubble burst,
and now a world!'

Farmers to hold massive rally in Mandya tomorrow

Mysuru, Sept. 18 (RKB&DM)- Strongly condemning the inaction of Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on his promise made to the farmers when they laid siege to his residence at Bengaluru a couple of months ago, the KRRS (Karnataka Rajya Raitha Sangha) will hold a massive farmers rally at Mandya on Sept. 19.

Announcing this at a press meet at Patrakarthara Bhavan here yesterday, KRRS President Badagalapura Nagendra said that the rally will adopt several resolutions against the Government, for its failure to address farmer issues, despite numerous representations, protests, demonstrations and rallies.

Listing out the demands of farmers, Nagendra said that the demands include redressal of problems of sugarcane growers, a blanket ban on mining activities in 20 km radius of KRS dam, dropping of plans for metering of IP sets, withdrawal of GST on packed agri products, payment of scientific compensation to farmers who lost crops in recent floods and other natural calamities, farm loan waiver, issuance of tilling rights to Bagar Hukum farmers etc.

Questioning the Government's decision to celebrate Dasara in a grand manner at a time when rains is causing havoc, he urged the Government to keep Dasara simple and use the money for relief and rehabilitation works.

Setting a one-week deadline for the Government to address the farmer demands, Nagendra warned that roads leading to Mysuru city in all the four directions will be blocked on Vijayadashami Day (Oct. 5) if their demands are not met by then. The farmers will bring along their cattle and bullock carts in hordes to block the Highway roads, he added.

KRRS office-bearers Hoskote Basavaraj, Prasanna N. Gowda, P. Marankaiah and Bandahalli Mahesh were present at the press meet.

Cauvery Gallery opens at Exhibition Grounds

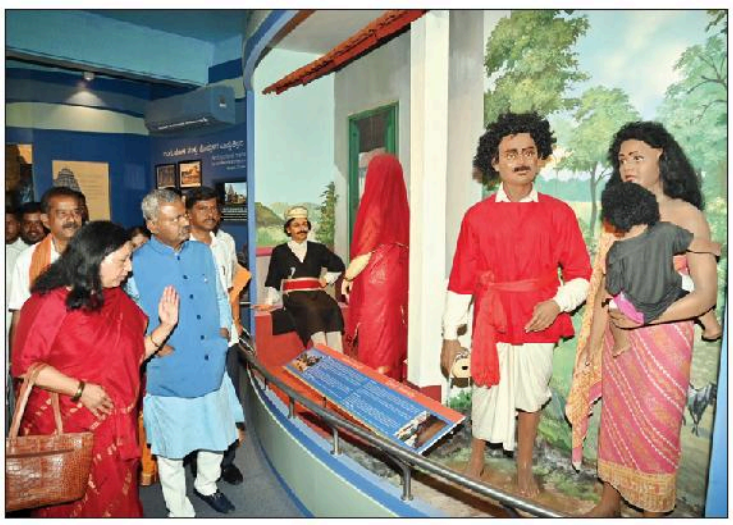
Visually appealing Gallery to be open on all days; entry fee not decided

Mysuru, Sept. 18 (GA&BCT)- The Cauvery Gallery that has been set up at Karnataka Exhibition Authority (KEA) Grounds showcasing the life, culture and biodiversity of the River from its birth at Talacauvery in Kodagu till it reaches the Bay of Bengal at Poompuhar in Tamil Nadu opened to the public last evening.

District Minister S.T. Somashekar did the honours and went around the Gallery with the fine points, concepts and technology being explained to him by K. Sadhana Attavar, Director, Visvesvaraya Industrial and Technological Museum, Bengaluru.

The Gallery will be open throughout the year and the entry fee has not yet been decided. Mostly it will be Rs. 20 or at the most Rs. 30 per visitor, he said.

There are many multimedia features and electronic display at the Gallery that provides visitors with an immersive experience of life and culture along the River. "For people of Mysuru, Mandya and Bengaluru, the Gallery holds utmost importance as the River is the lifeline. In addition, it will be a valuable resource for research scholars," he said.



K. Sadhana Attavar, Director, Visvesvaraya Industrial and Technological Museum, Bengaluru, takes Minister S.T. Somashekar and others along the Cauvery Gallery last evening. Picture right shows a sculpture of a villager going on a fishing trip on a coracle.

The 19,000 sq.ft visually appealing Gallery with many 3-D presentations has been built jointly by Karnataka Knowledge Commission and Tourism Department. It has been modelled as per the design, specifications and imagination of the National Academy of Sciences, India (NASI) at a cost of Rs. 3.5 crore.

The project is based on research conducted by the National Council of Science Museums (NCSM). Officials of NASI and the State Tourism Department had signed an agreement to establish the Gallery in the KEA complex (at Kannada Karanji).

It is the first river Gallery in South India and the third such one in the country. There is a Gallery for River Brahmaputra in Guwahati and River Ganga has a Gallery in Allahabad. The Gallery, through multimedia and 3-D features, highlights the geological and ecological characteristics of the Cauvery River apart from projecting the social and cultural characteristic features of civilisation that have evolved along the river bank.

At the Mysuru Gallery, there are many artefacts and life-size dolls that narrate the story of the River. Pictures, live visuals and models of the river flowing from one part to another criss-crossing the hills and plains will narrate the Cauvery story.

Apart from allowing a visitor to have a glimpse of visually appealing scenes all through the journey of the river, the Gallery will screen movies and documentaries on Cauvery. After the viewers see the Gallery, there will be a 20-minute short film on Cauvery. The overall message will be conserving the river and increasing green cover around the river for sustenance. In addition, places and industries that are polluting the river are shown to spread awareness. Along with the visual representation of various communities that have a close affinity with Cauvery like the Kodava community that finds representation in the Gallery, prominent waterfalls like Shimsha, rugged terrain like Mekedatu and picturesque Hogennakkal have found a place.

Mayor Shivakumar, Dy. Mayor Dr. G. Roopa, City BJP President T.S. Srivatsa, KEA Chairman Mirle Srinivas Gowda and CEO K. Rudresh were present.

Digital skilling initiative launched at Sarada Vilas

Mysuru, Sept. 18- "Time has come to provide digital skill competence to every graduating student irrespective of his or her specialisation," said D. N. Vasuki, IT Consultant and Member, Board of the National Institute of Engineering (NIE), Mysuru.

Speaking at the inauguration of the novel Digital Skilling Initiative, organised by Sarada Vilas Educational Institutions (SVEI) here recently, Vasuki said that about 30 million students graduate every year across different disciplines in the country, and it was the responsibility of the management of the educational institutions to enable every student to become fluent in digital skills.

The current dynamics in education, more so after implementation of National Education Policy (NEP), and abundant job opportunities in the industrial and service sectors, students should learn digital skills like social media and digital marketing, business or data analytics, he opined.

"43% of the jobs available in market come under non-tech jobs and hence such digital skills are highly essential for non-engineering graduates, be it science, law or pharma," he said.

Delivering a technical talk, Ram Bhupal Reddy of Max-Munus Solutions said maintaining a good customer relationship required digital skills, especially in product and service sectors. "More and more number of users are going online and students seeking jobs should build relevant digital competencies," he added.

Referring to the recent surveys conducted by management consulting groups, Prof. G.L. Shekar, educationist, said that India would be the global leader in providing talent pool, which is estimated at 20% of the world's working population by 2047. Skilling graduating students to better their employability must be the focus of educational institutions, he said.

Chandrashekar, Hon. Secretary of SVEI, presided. S. L. Ramachandra, Managing Committee Member of SVEI, welcomed.

R. Narasimha, Managing Committee Member of SVEI, Principals and faculty members were present along with over 400 students.
